STEEL TROUBLE

NEGRO MISTAKEN FOR A NONUNION EMPLOYE OF STAR PLANT.

Barely Escaped Lynching-Postoffice Special Delivery Messenger Held Up-Shaffer Defended by Davis.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 2. - This city was given over to the "sturdy sons of toil" to-day, who paraded the streets thousands strong in celebration of Labor day. The interest, owing to the Amalgamated strike, was never as great as this year, and in the procession were workmen from almost every trade. The first division was made up of Amalgamated strikers, with President Shaffer in the four divisions, and the striking steel workers were greeted with enthusiasm all along the line. The best of feeling prevailed, and there was no disorder. With the dismissal of the parade there was general exodus to Ross Grove, where a reunion of the allied trades of Western Pennsylvania was held. Addresses were made by President Shaffer, Simon Burns, of the Window Glass Workers' Association; George J. Churchill, and others. The day was spent in dancing and athletic sports. It is estimated that from 15,000 to 20,000 men were in the line of the labor parade. The day was generally observed throughout the two cities.

The meeting and picnic at the grove was somewhat marred by rain, but a crowd of between 4,000 and 5,000 men braved the elements to attend. The early part of the afternoon was given up to amusements and sports and it was after 5 o'clock before the speechmaking began. The principal addresses were made by President Shaffer and William J. Brennan, counsel Taken Into Custody at London-Was for the Amalgamated Association.

Mr. Bennan preceded Mr. Shaffer in an address that wrought his hearers up to a high pitch of enthusiasm. He advised them to guard the ballot as "the ark of labor's covenant" and told them that it was their ultimate salvation. The old ways of fighting by laboring men will be abandoned, he said, and up-to-date methods employed He reviewed the present troubles and closed by proposing a remedy.

This remedy he denominated as "labor's injunction" which he said is lawful and equitable. "Enjoin and restrain the banks from loaning your money to the trusts." AN EVIL SUGGESTION.

Giving a mass of statistics, he said: "O the 6,107,000 depositors in the banks onethird of them at least must be union men and friends of labor. "What is the remedy for these troubles? It is in combination. Let the workingmen combine. Let them use their ballots in their own behalf. Let them vote as they marched to-day. If it comes to a last resort there are the coal miners. If in the course of time their leaders shall think it best

Mr. Shaffer's closing words were: "If the mighty tyrant sitting in his golden throne in Wall street should descend to the humbler walks of life and grip the Amalgamated Association by the throat and try to strangle it to death other labor organizations will rise up and push the monster back and say, You are mighty, but hold, for he is our brother."

Leaving Tumbled Piles of Wreckage and Long Rows of Filth as Marks of Its Terrible Havoc.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 2.-Instead of great sea of muddy water the citizens of a large share of the east side of the city gazed to-day upon tumbled piles of wreckage and ruins and long rows of filth and dirt piled on streets, sidewalks and doorways. On every hand the marks of the flood could be seen. Since the flood has subsided the homes of J. W. Smith and Morton Noble have fallen deeper down into the mire and the two houses which a few short hours ago were beautiful homes are now hopeless wrecks. All idea of rebuilding has been abandoned, and the dilapidated buildings will be hauled away and ground prepared for new houses.
